China – Visited locations

General Information/Our opinion:

We used my long-known friend/guide Menxiu Tong. You can find him at: chinawildtour@gmail.com Together we set up an itinerary with our targets in mind. China is an easy country to bird with a guide that is. Foreigners are not allowed to drive a car without a Chinese license. For Swedish citizens you need a Visa, and that process can be a bit tricky. People are nice in China. We always felt safe and there are very few risks with travelling. The food in China is good. In Sichuan it is excellent! We had several fantastic meals. The weather was mostly good. A bit “nippy” in the mornings up North in the mountains. The prices are low compared to Europe. The landscape and scenery were breath taking in some places. We could recommend a birding trip to this fantastic part of China. Any questions and/or comments on this report feel free to contact me at: stellan.b@gotessons.se

4050 meters above sea level at Huanglong Mountains

Short comment of the daily observations, many observations of common birds are missing on daily basis. It takes time to add every single bird seen or heard. The most important thing is there; common birds are missing and/or the numbers of birds seen could be wrong.

Diary

Day 1 - Wednesday, May 28, 2025

A long, long day that in all honesty started already 27/5. Stellan started from home in the morning picking Musse up in Tibro and continued to Patrik where we were invited for lunch made in the Fantastic double Ninja Air fryer 😊. We continued our trip with Ortolan bunting and Ural Owl on our way to Arlanda Airport. At 19:10 we boarded our AIR China flight to Beijing. Henrik on the other hand started in Kalmar with train to Copenhagen and flight through Bangkok and further on to Chengdu. The rest of us had our first taste of Sichuan with a Noodle soup in Beijing before the flight to Chengdu. At 22:30 on May 28 we went (tired to be honest) to bed in Balang Shan. This after a 4,5-hour drive from Chengdu.

Day 2 - Thursday, May 29, 2025

Started at dawn on the east side of the tunnel at the top of the mountain. Chines Monal a female, some rosefinches, redstarts and pheasants in the mist. Passed through the tunnel to the other side where the weather was totally different with high blue skies and sun. Walked a short bit on the west side of the tunnel and a bit down at a place called "Viewpoint" where you can see the snowy mountain tops called "the three sisters". Our first Firethroat was calling but could not be seen. The first bird parties were there and gave some good species. Good lunch that not very surprising was a theme throughout the trip, Fantastic food over all in Sichuan. We continued the day after lunch back at the Tunnel area where we after a 200 m hike straight up on the mountain got a pair of Himalayan Rubythroat where the male was displaying crazy good. We ended the day in Rilong area before dinner and with a well-deserved beer or two.

Day 3 - Friday, May 30, 2025

Same start as yesterday. Some new birds though. A very Yellow Golden Bush-Robin was singing from the top of a tree in the mist. Moved a bit closer and we got a pretty good view of a fantastic bird. After the tunnel area in the morning, we decided to move on. This might have been a mistake (Easy to know afterwards) since we should have walked up towards the top for Snow Partridge, a bird we missed on the trip. Anyway, 2 hours' drive to Wolong with a stop at Lama Monastery where our main target was Slaty Bunting. It took us about 30 seconds to find. At Wolong there are a Panda Centre for those interested in seeing Panda in a park. We did not even though there was one that wanted to. He got his wish later in the trip though... Wolong was nice, A drive to the parking lot at "The top" and walked down road. A lot of birds. A male Firethroat showed himself for a second or so. Just a bright very red spot inside the dark undergrowth – Nice! In the late afternoon/evening we drove back and forth on the road to find Golden Pheasant and managed to see 2 males, the last one was Stellan happy about since his place in the car didn't give him the chance to see the first one. When the pheasant was "Bagged" we drove 1,5 hours to Dujiangyau City for dinner and sleep.

Day 4 - Saturday, May 31, 2025

Late morning with sleep to 07:00, directly after breakfast we drove towards Tan Shi Village. Lunch during the journey. We also spent 10 minutes to buy some Chinese alcohol to celebrate our new ticks. Nice-looking bottles and a very helpful lady in the store were very clear about what we should get. Full afternoon in the "High hide". This is the place for Temminck's Tragopan. The drive up to the hide is not a Chinese high road... We spent about 5 hours in the hide, simple wooden chairs but roof so rain is not a problem. Buffy Laughingthrush was common, and we got good views of Lady Amherst's and Silver pheasant. Also, Chinese bamboo partridge. A white-tailed Robin was singing from bamboo. No Tragopan though. We were a bit unhappy we drove back to Tan Shi Village for dinner and sleep. Before our sleep we had to try the local alcohol and found out that we bought some Very sweet low alcohol liquor...

Day 5 - Sunday, June 01, 2025

Breakfast at 05:00, normally noodle soup or dumplings to choose from and always nice tasting. We started at the “Low Hide” and after just 5 minutes a male Sichuan Partridge came out from the bamboo. We were done here! We moved 300 m to a smaller hide and very soon we got Emai Shan Liocichla. Back to the “High hide” for another long wait. After 7 hours the Tragopan finally came out and we got a two-minute view in the cloudy mist. We were all very happy, maybe Henrik the most. Back to Tan Shi village for some village birding, dinner and early to bed after a sip of our not so fantastic plum liquor. Luckily Stellan was smart enough to buy Jamesson Whiskey as well.

Early start again in the “Emei Shan Liocichla hide” until 08:30. The rest of the morning we walked along the road from the “High hide” and down. Good birding and we managed to see the White-tailed Robin singing. We also found and had Great views of Golden Parrotbill. Lunch in Tan Shi and after that we drove for about 2 hours. We were ahead of schedule and decided to make a try at the Silver Oriole. We walked along a slope and made efforts in two locations. No luck but we found a place that looked good. New attempt tomorrow morning.

Day 7 - Tuesday, June 03, 2025

A shitty day... Or, on our way to the forest that we thought looked Very good for Silver Oriole we were stopped by two "Officials", well they had suit and a red armband. They informed us that we could not visit the location due to the risk of a forest fire. We did some birding lower without any success for the Oriole. We went back to the town for Lunch and after lunch we returned to the forest and walked some 3-4 km along the road. The area looked very nice for the Oriole but of course the afternoon with burning sun was not the perfect time. That meant maybe the biggest "dip" of the trip. On a personal note, this area looks perfect and there are observations from 2024 here. I am sure that with time and in the morning, there should be great opportunity to find this rare bird here.

Day 8 - Wednesday, June 04, 2025

The 4th of June will go down in history as a magnificent day. Stellan and Musse started the day at 06:00 with a walk along the river in the small town of Jinhuaqiao, nothing special seen. After a dumpling breakfast we set off on one of the first cable cars up the mountain to Wawushan. Some, well most of us liked the ride. Others thought it was way to high maybe the color in the face was a bit pale for a while...It took us 20 second to find the first Parrotbill of the day. We ended up with 5 (All of them) before the end of the day. The forest up here has a floor of thick bamboo and very old trees. Simple a fantastic place to be. During our walks on wooden trials 2-6 meters above the ground we also managed to see two Red Panda. In the afternoon we did get a bit nervous though since we hadn't found the difficult Parrotbill. Therefor we started our walk again and after 30 min or so we found a Grey-Hooded Parrotbill as well. Since the day was so good we decided to be flexible with the itinerary and left one day early. After a 2-hour drive, we were in Longcanggou.

Day 9 - Thursday, June 05, 2025

Up at 06:00 and noodles for breakfast today. Today's main target was Gold-fronted Fulvetta, and it took us almost 2 hours to find a pair. A great looking bird. Emei Leaf Warbler was easy, and we had 8 birds in total. Since we found our target in the morning we decided to leave early and went for lunch. Since we did that, we had time for Erlanshan. This is also a high mountain with a road up and over the summit. The problem is that the road now is closed. This will be a problem in the future for sure. The Chinese government is building miles and miles of tunnels under the mountain; my guess is that the smaller roads over the mountains will be destroyed due to landslides and not repaired since there are other ways to get passed the mountain. I THINK that this could make birding and finding good stuff can get harder with time. Our main target here was Rufous-tailed Babbler that we found quite easy after just a km (or so) walk. Another good sighting was a female Firethroat that we got pictures of. Also 2 males Firethroat was seen. On the way down (it was the fact that the road is not maintained anymore) we got a flat tire. No problem, in the village below a man fixed a new tire and changed within an hour. Try to find that service in Sweden 😊 Night in Hailuogou.

Day 10 - Friday, June 06, 2025

Late start with breakfast at 06:30, then bus (Private cars are not allowed) to the "First stop" at Hailuoguo Glacier Park. Again, nice forest. According to our guide and e-bird our main target; the Streaked Barwing had been very difficult this year. Our strategy was to walk the road of about 2 km up and back. After just 50 meters we found one of the other targets for the day Pere David's Tit. After about one km we heard a Barwing a few times. Lucky but no matter how much we searched for the bird we were not successful seeing it. On the other hand we had great views of both Himalayan Shortwing and Scaly-breasted Cupwing. Also a singing Blue-fronted Robin showed himself for a second or two. Lunch out with bananas, bread and peanut butter. At around 17:00 we left and took the bus down. Another 2 hours in car took us to Bifengxia where we spent the night in another good hotel room.

Day 11 - Saturday, June 07, 2025

A morning walk with several Alstrom Warblers but no luck on Grey Laughingthrush. Back to the hotel for breakfast and another walk around the village. After about an hour's walk, we found a group of the Laughingthrush, and we planned to leave but no. Now it was time for Panda in a park. While two of us were seeing that the other two were mostly bored. Since it got later than planned, we had lunch before we left. A long drive was planned and executed. A stop in Ya'an gave us Long-Billed Plover and at 18:30 we arrived Pingwu. We finally found "The real stuff" – Rice liquor (Too much of it even though it taste like turpentine) and celebrated the ticks so far.

Day 12 - Sunday, June 08, 2025

The taste of “The good stuff” in my mouth from yesterday was clear when we woke up at 07:00. We drove for 30 min up the mountain to the entrance of Panda Park and walked down. After just 100 m we heard and saw the main target of the day – Zappey’s Flycatcher. Another male was seen further down. Lunch in the town and a 3 h drive in the afternoon took us to Shangsizhai Village. We took a short walk in the village before heading up to the pass at 3600m. The landscape and scenery were just amazing. A 3-4 km walk in the evening along the road gave nothing special. Dinner in the village and bed early.

Day 13 - Monday, June 09, 2025

Tough today, there was a report of a singing Rufous-headed Robin and we tried that of course. Nothing. We managed to find a Sichuan Tit though. The weather was bad with rain and wind. On top of that the forecast says it will rain for another 3-4 days. We changed the itinerary again and decided to leave for Ruergai and return here later on the trip. Left at 10:00 and had lunch on the way. Arrived Ruergai at 15:00. Rain and wind also here... One of us was resting in the room while the rest of us were driven 3-4 km from the hotel and walking back. It gave us our first Ground Tit and a nice Ssp. of Twite. On the way to Ruergai we also found a few Black-necked Cranes. This was the Worlds last Crane for Henrik he was happy. We all went to bed hoping for better weather tomorrow.

Day 14 - Tuesday, June 10, 2025

The best day of the trip? Anyway, a Very good day 😊. Sun, little wind and perfect conditions. Again, we started late with breakfast at 07:00. Some were happy about all the sleep, others not so much. Our guide explained (again) for us “not so happy” that high altitude means that the birds are not active early and he was probably right. We drove through the high grassy plateau and stopped where it looked good or if we saw something. After 1,5 hour we took a longer stop and walked for a km out in some more bushy area. It didn't take more than 300 meters before we found Przewalski's Pinktail singing. Then we had a female and a 2cy male as well. In the same place we had fantastic views of White-browed Tit-warbler, and we heard Tibetan Partridge. In the grass along the road there were 1 million? Plateau Pika. A Saker Falcon showed itself nicely before we stopped for lunch. After lunch we drove for about 40 minutes to Diben, a small village with a monastery. Just outside of the village was a place with more vegetation in a gorge and walked up. The best birds here were a Maroon-backed Accentor and Three-banded Rosefinch. The afternoon was spent at “Flower Lake”. You are not allowed to drive down to the lake yourself so here it was bus the last 2km. Between the car park and the bus station where there stands with all possible things for sale. A little bit of a tourist place was the feeling. On the other hand, Flower Lake was great. We managed to find 3 rare birds for the area, all of them common European birds: Mute Swan, Little Tern and Glossy Ibis. Back to the hotel in the evening. All of us were happy after a great day birding.

Day 15 - Wednesday, June 11, 2025

Up at 04:30, Finally! Transport to Baxi. We started the morning looking for Ural Owl without any success. Then we walked up into Baxi Forest and found amongst others Chinese Grouse. A Himalayan Bluetail was singing in the misty morning. A long lunch break with rest for almost 3 hours made us full of energy and in the afternoon, we drove back and passed Baxi up towards the pass on the other side to try for another big Target; Sichuan Jay. We walked down along the road and after about an hour we heard one. Exactly like the tape, answering the tape. Ok, we need to see this bird! We tried and tried and tried and after about 30 minutes it came closer. Strange, it seems like it is close to the ground... After another five minutes we got a short sighting of the bird. It is a Giant Laughingthrush! Damn it! The call was Exactly the same as the Jay. With that in mind we knew that we need to be careful with this one... Dinner at 19:30 and to bed early.

Day 16 - Thursday, June 12, 2025

Spicy Noodles at breakfast at 06:00 and back to Baxi. The miss of Sichuan Jay was not welcomed yesterday... We walked a valley just before Baxi Forest. Had bad views of singing 2K White-Bellied Redstart and good views of Chinese Fulvetta. Walked back to the car again, annoyed over the fact that we couldn't find the Jay. Walked up the valley again and meet a birder from The Netherlands. Then a call from the forest, wait – Sichuan Jay? Hold your horses, is it a Giant Laughingthrush again? Doesn't it seem that the call comes from high up in the spur's trees? After just a few minutes we found a pair of Sichuan Jay – Happy! The rest of the day was spent walking; we walked 14 km in search of Spectacled Parrotbill. Several reports in e-bird from here. We were not that lucky though. Dinner and a few Chinese beers in the evening and again, early to bed.

Day 17 - Friday, June 13, 2025

We tried some other valleys and walked 10 km in the morning in search of the “Bloody” Parrotbill. In the end we heard one a few times. Guess if we were tired of that call... Fantastic weather though and many other good birds. An adult, White-bellied Redstart showed himself as if he was a model. Fantastic bird. A Chinese Bush Warbler was singing and a group of Chinese Long-tailed Rosefinches was nice and showed them self for a short while. A nice morning without doubt. Lunch at the hotel and then back to the car. We drove up to Gezangjiaze pass and heard Tibetan Snowcock. After the Pass we drove for 2,5 hours back to Shangsizhai Village. Some birding along the road in nice weather before dinner in the village.

Day 18 - Saturday, June 14, 2025

Started early with (again) a Noodle soup breakfast. Then drove to the place of the report of Rufous-headed Robin. Perfect morning with nice weather and no wind. Nothing – Again. After that try we drove back for just a short while and walked around Lake Ganhaizi. Also, there is a nice habitat here and there were some birds but nothing new for the trip. Some more birding in different locations during the day didn't have anything special.

Day 19 - Sunday, June 15, 2025

Another day that I will have a hard time forgetting. We started early (04:15) with an attempt (that in all honestly, we didn't have high hopes for) on Wood Snipe. As expected, no luck. When the sun came up, we drove up to the Pass and walked up on a plateau just next to the pass. It was perfect condition with sun, blue skies and no wind. Even though the height of 4020m made us question the training before the trip we soldiered on and walked 16 km today. Maybe the best walk of my life 😊 We had a pair of Grandala. Never seen anything that blue! On the way down threw the low scrub of rhododendron and other low bushes were singing Golden Bush Robin and Rubythroats up close. Streaked Rosefinches and Blue Sheep. A Magnificent day! Lunch out with some bread, bananas and chocolate. In the afternoon we continued to bird in the same area but lower. Again, we had great views of Firethroat. We went up to Gong Gang Ling in the evening listening and searching for Ural (Pere David's Owl). Patrik & Menxiu heard it from far away. Musse and Stellan did not and maybe was a little grumpy... In bed late at around 23:30.

Day 20 - Monday, June 16, 2025

Start at 05:00 and back to the pass. Great views of Snowcock and at around 08:30 we found the main target of the day, a pair of Red-fronted Rosefinch. It seems that they are high up in stony areas and that is where we found them. We went back after this and had a simple but very good tasting fried noodle lunch. The train left according to time table at 13:05 (They always do in China) and with some drinks and snacks in the backpack we started the 6 hour journey south. Arrived Xichang on time and got our rented car out. Menxiu was now driving. We had a spicy, barbecue dinner in Xichang before we drove the 3 hours to Ningnan. In bed late and tired.

Black-rumped Magpie and Red-billed Cough

Day 21 - Tuesday, June 17, 2025

Started the morning in Lianhe Village where the Lord Derby's Parakeets was friendly in the nesting tree. It didn't take long to find our next target, the second last Parrotbill (Eye-Ringed) of the trip. We walked along a dirt road in perfect weather. Well, for some the heat here down south was a bit too much. Got some other new birds for the trip. Around 10:30 we broke up and returned to the village for lunch. On the way down we stopped at a small pond and found a Black-tailed Crake (Not very surprising since Menxiu know it was here) ... After lunch break, we headed up to 2000 m East of Ningnan. After a couple of km walk, we found a singing Upland Pipit in a tree, they should be on the ground not in trees... Again, the weather was on our side, and we ended the day with another walk. Fantastic views in a Pine Forest with grassy undergrowth. The best bird in the evening was a Russet Bush Warbler. Night in the town of Ningnan.

Upland Pipit (Never in trees...)

Day 22 - Wednesday, June 18, 2025

Up on the same mountain but a bit higher (2500 m). Walked along the road again. No problem here since there was no traffic on the small roads. The chances here for Giant Nuthatch are slim but we made a try without success. Some new birds for the trip before we (after lunch) headed towards our next and last destination. About 2,5 hours drive later we turned left up to a small village called Youposhi. 100 m walk and we found our last Parrotbill (Spot-Billed). Another 20-minute drive took us to the very nice hotel in Huangfo Temple. The evening was spent in Qionghai wetland. More birds to the trip report but nothing special. Dinner where was offered “Magic mushroom”, since we are now old and wise we turned them down.

Day 23 - Thursday, June 19, 2025

Rain! We walked for a while in the morning in Qionghai Wetland Park. Very wet. Lunch in the town and after lunch a 3-hour train ride back to Chengdu. We were picked up by a driver in Chengdu and went to a very fancy restaurant and had a very nice last dinner. Came to the Airport early and had to wait 3 hours before check in. Then a flight back with Qatar Airways through Doha before we touched ground in Stockholm in the afternoon. Midsummer celebrations were few. After another 6 hours with stop to leave Patrik and Musse I was home in Dalstorp at around 23:00.
